

Thrust Control of Lab-Scale Hybrid Rocket Motor with Wax-Aluminum Fuel and Air as Oxidizer

Objective

Development of a controllable hybrid rocket motor using air as the oxidiser and a solid fuel made of wax and aluminium

Methodology

Thrust control based on chamber pressure measurement

Ball valve and servo motor based flow control

PID gain tuning using numerical simulation and cold-flow tests

